

Turn, Tern, Turn

Artist: Eric M. Kaiser
erickaisercarvings.com
stainless steel 2019

HyArts Discovery Walk

In memoriam of Joseph Jay Shore, 1939-2013, “When I look at the moon, I’ll be seeing you.”

Artist Statement

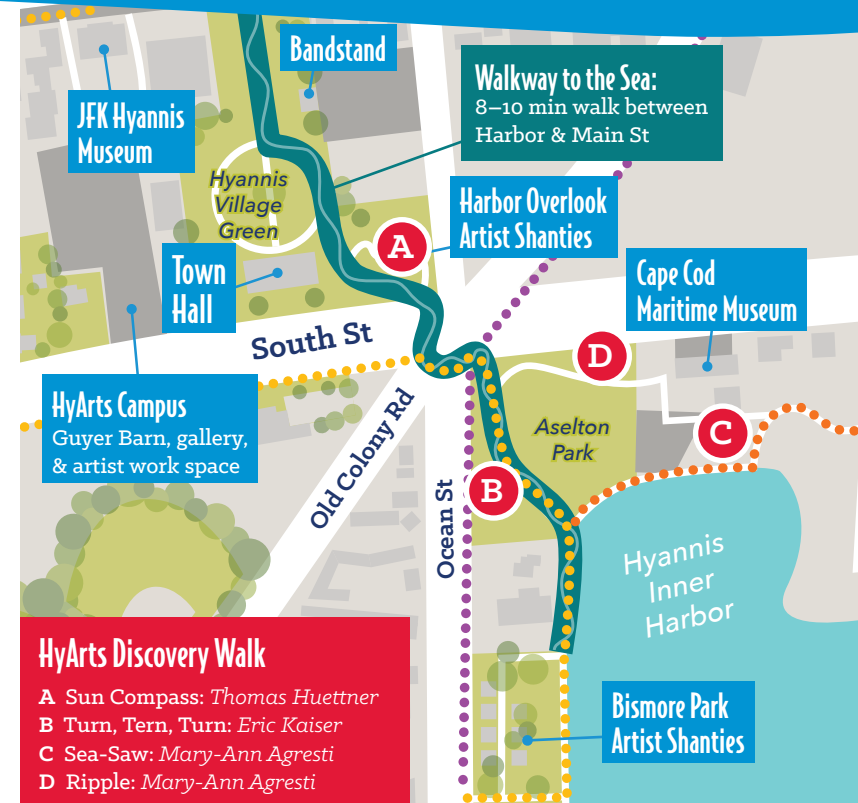

“Turn, Tern, Turn” is an expression of the dynamic beauty of avian flight, one of the great wonders of nature. Terns as a subject offer the ultimate in grace and form. This wonderful Seabird is abundant on our summer shores.

Sculpture should be viewed from all sides. I made this piece in order to invite you to have some fun. Please DO TOUCH to view it “In the Round”! Push the fish forward, step back, and then, and always: “KEEP YOUR EYES TO THE SKY!” (E. Vernon Laux 1955- 2016)

About the Artist

Eric M. Kaiser (b 1952): Eric lives in Cotuit. His passion and avocation are bird carving, an American art form for which Cape Cod is renown. Decoy carving and its descendant, decorative bird carving, were nurtured from their infancy largely on our Shores. Eric is a designated “World Master” and a World Champion decorative carver.

visit ARTSBarnstable.com to find more public art throughout the town

We are grateful for our sponsors:

